

Mother's Prayers for a Child of Any Age

Even if a mother has children that are thirty, forty years-old, she can still send them more energy even than a master. This is because a birth mother's soul has the strongest connection to her children through her blood and womb chakra. She can connect to her children wherever they are on the planet and send high positive energy.

This practice is for birth mothers because it uses the womb chakra and blood link that occurred in the womb during gestation. However, any mother's love is a healing force. Thus, every mother can try doing this prayer for their child, even if your child was not gestated in your womb. Your love counts.

Process:

As the mother you can sit in your prayer space (or any private, clean space) and send your energy, love and grace for the healing of your child.

You must surround yourself with 9 same sized candles while you pray. The candlelight energy is important; thus, all the candles must stay lit during the prayers.

It is best to bring a picture of the child into the circle of candles, so you can look in to the child's eyes as you pray. Looking eye to eye is a mechanism for soul connection.

Fill your heart with love for your child. Keep your prayer focused on a single intent that is for the highest possibilities of your child's soul. Put aside your fears or negative feelings. Think deeply, positively, on your child's potential. You are talking to and sending energy directly to your child's soul—the light within them. Keep your prayer going strongly for 10-15 minutes, or as long as you like beyond that.

You need to repeat this process 5 times or more with the same intent until you see the effect.
